SCHEDULE OF BASEBALL TRIP

Third Tour of the White Sox and Giants; Itinerary Is Made Public.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—The third tour of the world by baseball clubs, to be made this autumn and winter by the Chicago White Sox and the New York Giants, will be the most complete that has ever been attempted. Now that it has been assured that the trip will be made and as the time approaches even though it still will be more than two months away, it may be interesting to delve a bit into the two previous trips.

The first trip made by American teams to foreign lands was taken in 1874 by the Boston team of Boston and Athletic clubs of Philadelphia—members of the National league—under the guidance of Mr. A. G. Spalding of the Boston club. These two teams were only in Great Britain. This combination of American ball players made a great impression on the English people.

The second trip by American ball teams was made in the autumn of 1888, but this was a "round the world" trip. The players who made up those two teams were taken from the Chicago club of the National league and American association players. This tour was also under the auspices of Mr. Spalding. The tourists left San Francisco in November of 1888 and returned to this country by the way of Great Britain in the spring of 1889.

All America was interested in this tour and the officers of both the National league and American association, regulated their season's schedules to the arrival of the players from foreign lands. The present trip around the world will be of importance to all other former trips of American ball players for the reason that it is proposed to play in all the capitals and important cities of Japan, China, Australia and Europe.

EXPLORATION TRIP
BY FAMOUS INDIAN

PHOENIX, Sept. 29.—Dr. Carlos Montezuma of Chicago, accompanied by John Milton Oskinson the noted magazine writer and financial editor of Collier's; Dr. Charles Brockway Gibson of Chicago, Rev. W. H. Steadman D. D., a retired Baptist clergyman of Champaign, Ill., and George W. Moran of Chicago, a large owner of property in the valley, arrived in Phoenix Thursday for the purpose of completing the arrangements for the big hunt and exploration expedition, which they are to begin October 1.

While on the hunt they will be accompanied by the Mohave-Apache Indians their women and children, living on the McDowell reservation.

Dr. Montezuma is a man whose life is closely connected with the history of the United States and especially with that of Arizona and is beloved by both the Indian and the white man, for his many acts of charity and his work with the red men, in whom they have a friend in the truest sense. Dr. Montezuma's life history is a most remarkable one captured in 1871, during an Indian massacre, which occurred six miles south of what is known as Weaver's ranch, he was sold to a photographer by the name of C. Gentile, of Chicago, for the sum of $30. Being a bright lad, Gentile educated the boy and later sent him to the University of Illinois where he graduated with the highest honors.

WORSLEY MAY BE CANDIDATE

Says He Does Not Aspire to Leadership of Forces of Labor in the State for Governorship—Denial Is Straight

TUCSON, Sept. 29.—In a statement A. A. Worsley, state senator from Pima county to the first state legislature, one of the state's most prominent attorneys and a strong, known advocate of the laboring man's rights, effectually put a stop to the rumors which have been appearing to the effect that the labor conference which would meet next month in Bisbee endorse him or anyone else for governor. In speaking of the matter the senator said: "I have never asked the labor unions of this state to endorse me for the governorship and never would and I think that it would be an unwise step for the laboring men of the state to take any such step.

"I do not think that they will be so. So far as I am informed the labor unions of the state stand for a great cause. This cause is effect but very little by any one person or by any one generation of men. It is a matter of perpetual growth and depends upon the diffusion of knowledge and education. I am quite sure that the labor unions of the state will bear me out in this statement.

"I am more than sure that no man will be endorsed by the conference, nor will the subject be allowed to come up in the deliberations of the conference."

In making the statement Senator Worsley did not deny that he would run for the governorship. In fact he intimated that if the laboring men of the state wanted him as their candidate he would get into the campaign and do his best to land the governorship. He is irrevocably against striking and dissension in the ranks of organized labor in the state and in order to avoid any possible chance of a split, advocates the absence of any political complexion in the labor conference at Bisbee next month.

AVIATION MEETING TO BE HELD AT GLOBE

GLOBE, Sept. 29.—The aviation meet is now an assured fact due to the progressive spirit of the merchants of this city. All that remains to be done in the selection of a committee to choose the most promising date and the bringing of the machine here where it will be placed on exhibition on the day of the flight.

Aviator Neyvatte spent a busy day looking over the various aerodromes and has practically decided upon the grounds that will be used. The grounds will be near to hand and will be large enough for all to see the machine start and alight.

INDIAN MAIDENS OF PRESCOTT JOIN CIRCUS

PRESCOTT, Sept. 29.—It is now to the number of at least twenty are in the throes of anguish all on account of losing their Indian girl domestics.

The stunt that caused a heira of the maidens in a body to the sunny southland was the coming to Phoenix of Ringling Bros.' circus, the copper-colored lassies, informing their mistresses that they were desirous of having a few days' lay-off to see the sights and to mingle with their kin folk amidst the scenes with the shadow of the Indian school where they passed their days in an aboriginal state in book learning.

The ruse of the girls worked with all the cunning of trained diplomatic tutelage and one spoke for all to the number of at least twenty. Unlike most of their sex there was not a single girl who gave the slightest intimation of the game to be played. They modestly got aboard the train and went whizzing to the capital city—never to return. The compact was so cleverly carried out that even the Prescott housewives to this day are not aware of the game that was played so unsuspectingly on their generous inclination. Not an Indian girl is left in the city and when summer comes next year probably they may come back to ask forgiveness for "putting one over" on the pale face.

TO PROBE "BIG TIM'S" DEATH

Persistent Rumors That Bowery Congressman Was Murdered

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—A large number of witnesses have been summoned to testify at the inquest into the death of Representative Timothy D. Sullivan, known throughout the city as "Big Tim," which was begun by Coroner Healy today. Mr. Sullivan had been suffering for about a year with some mental disease which made him mentally irresponsible and after having been kept in a sanatorium for some time his brother, with an attendant took the patient to Europe in the hope that the trip would benefit his condition. After his return this summer, Mr. Sullivan seemed to be somewhat improved, but one day he disappeared under peculiar circumstances and nothing was seen or heard of him in spite of the most thorough search, until his mangled body was found at a railroad crossing in the Bronx borough. Persistent rumors that "Big Tim" had been fatally caught with and that after he had been murdered his body had been placed on the railroad track induced District Attorney Whitman to start an investigation and it was decided to hold an inquest.
